13TH ARCHBISHOP OF WALES is Bishop John Davies, who has served as the Bishop of Swansea and Brecon for the past nine years. Having been the 'lead Bishop' for Church and Society issues, Archbishop John is profoundly interested in matters of social justice and has spoken out on a range of issues, including homelessness and housing, rural problems, organ donation, assisted dying and poverty. As a former church chorister, organist and choirmaster, he has a passionate interest in church music being 'done well', whether complex musical settings or just simple hymns and songs, believing that it can do much to enhance quality, spirituality and effectiveness of many an act of worship.

GOVERNING BODY. "Does the Bench consider that the Church in Wales should hold itself to a standard of behaviour in all its interactions that meets the spirit as well as the letter of the Equality Act 2010, and will they commit to a programme of cultural change if they are not assured of this?"

I was elected to GB last year based on undertaking to promote equality and diversity in the Church in Wales. Christ expects us to try to make our church welcoming and inclusive for everyone, and that can sometimes require uncomfortable changes for us all. This needs support from our church as a whole, and in posing this question I'm asking the bishops to take a lead. I'm confident we have done great things in our parish in ensuring accessible buildings, welcoming and supporting people in all situations, but there's always more to do, and I know we can learn from our brothers and sisters across Wales. Please contact me if you have anything you would like me to raise at GB. drheatherpayne@hotmail.com

ROATH NEWS BIOGRAPHIES. The next addition of Roath News will be out soon, and we are starting a new feature of short "biographies". It would be great to include articles on people in the parish, either by email or handwritten. So please consider sharing a little about yourself with the rest of us. Look out for the first bio on Anna Mason in the next edition, and a profile of the Gough family in the November magazine.

WELCOME. We extend a warm welcome to all visitors and newcomers. Please make yourself known to one of the sidesmen if you are new with us.
